Davies Agrees To Pay Back $7,500 Fee

LAWYERS ASK 'WHITE WASH' FOR PAYMENT

Judge Landis Reviews Case of Former State Official

ORDERS BIG REFUND

Consumers Company Will File Suit; Money Will Follow

CHICAGO — Federal Judge Landis today refused to grant the request made through attorneys of Attorney Joseph E. Davies, of Wisconsin, that a court order be entered absolving him from all complicity in connection with the Consumers' Packing Company if $7,500 attorney's fees were deturned.

The fee was received for work done for the promoters of the packing company who have been held to the grand jury on charges of using the mails to defraud. Counsel for Mr. Davies asked that the order show that the good faith and professional conduct of Mr. Davies, former chairman of the Federal Trade commission and prominent in Wisconsin politics, was not impugned.

Judge Landis is seeking to recover all attorney's fees and salesmen's commissions in connection with the promotion, for the benefit of alleged deluded stock purchasers.

The court's refusal came after a recommendation by F. E. Hummel, attorney for the receiver of the Consumer's Company, that the money be accepted and the "Clean Bill of health" entered on the records.

"There has been conclusive evidence presented that the crowd trying to get the sanction of the capital issues committee at Washington for the sale of stock were crooks," said Judge Landis. "Mr. Davies appeared for them before thfe capital issues committee as an attorney. I assumed that Mr. Davies, having been involved to this extent, would appreciate the privilege of appearing in court and invited him to do so last Monday. He did not appear."

Morgan L. Davies, one of Joseph E. Davies' attorneys, explained that his client objected to putting himself in the attitude of being included in the group under fire, and that Mr. Davies' appearance before the committee was routine business such as comes to any lawyer.

"Mr. Davies told me that he had heard that the big Chicago packers were opposed to the committee sanctioning the sale of stock of the proposed consumers' company," said Attorney Davies, who is a relative of Joseph E. Davies.

"If that is true," replied Judge Landis, "I think the Chicago packers were entitled to vast credit, for so far as this company is concerned it was a criminal conspiracy."

Finally an agreement was reached between the court and the lawyers by which the receiver is to file suit for the $7,500 and immediately upon its filing the money will be turned in without contest. It was explained that Joseph E. Davies has no desire to retain the money but insisted on protecting his reputation. This, it was pointed out, could be done by means of the suit.

BOLSHEVISTS FORCE FRENCH TO WITHDRAW

Lose Between 5,000 and 8,00 in Bitter Fighting Against Tricolor

WARNING IS ISSUED

Allied Council Says Fighting in Galacia Must End Immediately.

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON — Virtually all of the Ukraine is now in the hands of the Bolsheviki according to advices reaching London today. In heavy fighting, the Bolsheviki lost between 5,000 and 8,000 men but forced the French Garrison to withdraw to Odessa.

Seek Allies' Withdrawal

The Bolsheviki apparently are engaged in a strong effort to subdue Russian opposition in the Ukraine and to drive allied forces from that region. If the Bolsheviki can control the great agricultural region of the Ukraine they might be able to relieve the serious food shortage.

Aided by Ugralnian bolsheviki forces, troops of the Moscow government in the last three weeks have occupied Kiev and Zhitomir.

Russian wireless messages received Wednesday reported that non-bolshevik forces after being repulsed by the Bolsheviki were retiring on Odessa. An official Greek report from Saloniki said that Greek troops had defeated the Bolsheviki at Kherson, northeast of Odessa and about thirty miles south of Nikolaiev.

Ukrainians Warned

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS—Marshal Foch and other generals were called in during today's prolonged session of the supreme council to give their advice as to action which should be taken in Galicia, where Ukrainian forces are besieging Lemberg. The commission on international law legislation has decided against the international labor bureau when constituted, invoking the aid of the league of nations to enforce its decisions. This decision was mainly due to difficulties which would be encountered in the United States where constitutions would require alterations before they would permit such outside interference.

Wilson Will Preside

President Wilson will act as chairman at the meeting of the league of nations commission which will be considered and the plan put into definite form.

This will be the first meeting of the commission since the covenant was adopted the day before Mr. Wilson left for America.

Lord Robert Cecil and Thomas W. Gregory, former U. S. attorney general, are now here and are among those who have sought to draft a proviso relative to the Monroe Doctrine in such form that it will meet the approval of legal experts.

The commission is to hold continuous sessions until the work of revision is completed.

President Wilson spent this forenoon in work at the Paris "White House" in preparation for another conference this afternoon with Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George. The conference will take place at Mr. Lloyd George's residence.

SENATE IN CHANGE ON MEASURE

Reconsider Vote By Which Wilcox Bill Was Engrossed Yesterday

CALL OF THE HOUSE

Bennett and Burke Lead Fight Against Wage Measure

By a vote of 13 to 10 the senate reconsidered the vote by which it on Wednesday engrossed the Wilcox bill to establish a minimum wage for men. This is the first roll call on the measure and it indicates that the opponents of the bill who have been fighting all forenoon to gain the position in which they could deal a death blow to the bill have been successful. Immediately following this roll call Senator Timothy Burke moved for indefinite postponement. Senator Wilcox countered with a motion for a call of the house which prevailed.

The roll call to reconsider:

Ayes: Benfey, Bilgren, Bird, Buck, Burke, Cunningham, Huber, Jennings, Mulberger, Nye, Pullen, Roethe, Stevens—13.

Noes: Anderson, Beyer, Fons, Kleist, Peterson, Skogmo, Wilcox, Wilkinson, Witter, Zumach—10.

Paired: For the bill, Severson, Conant and Arnold. Against the bill: Bennett, Staudenmayer and Clark.

Attempts to Adjourn.

While Wilcox was concluding his remarks, Bennett attempted to adjourn the senate, stating that many senators desired to depart on the noon train. Wilcox held the floor, long enough to prevent a hegira under a rule which forbids a motion, while a member has the floor Bennett then filed a pair and departed.

After consideration, delay and parliamentary sparring the senate raised the call, and sent the bill back to the reconstruction committee.

Senator Wilcox made a second address on the bill, in which he said that four Catholic bishops who had made an inquiry into labor conditions, had reported in favor of the plan embodied in the bill. He said that organized labor, when it made an inquiry into the question, generally favored the measure and that prominent farmers, who had appeared before the committee, including Ira J. Christ, former president of the Wisconsin Society of quity, had said there was no desire from the farmers to be exempted from the provisions of the bill.

VON HINDENBURG WRITES ABOUT KAISER'S FLIGHT

"Thought It Best Way to Serve Germany" General Declares

(By the Associated Press)

BERLIN—Aroused by criticisms of William Hohenzollern regarding his flight to Holland last fall, Field Marshal von Hindenburg has published a defense of the ex-ruler's action. After depicting the situation caused by the weakening of the army, the doubtful reliability of the forces in the field and the breaking out of the revolution at home, the Field Marshal writes:

"The peaceful return home of the emperor then became impossible. It could only have been carried out through the forceful employment of loyal troops, and civil war would have been added to the hostilities with the enemy.

"The emperor could have betaken himself to the fighting troops in order to meet death at their head in a last attack upon the enemy, but the armistice would thereby have been postponed and the lives of many soldiers uselessly sacrificed. The emperor finally in agreement with his advisers and after a severe mental struggle, decided to leave the country, solely in the hope that he could thereby best serve the fatherland, save Germany from further losses, distress and misery and restore peace and order to her."

Assemblyman Bowman, Milwaukee, attacked the resolution. He said that the congressional investigation had cost $750,000 and that the plan under the Bennett resolution was as wide in scope. Assemblyman Bartingale said that the new marketing commission law, which would be enacted at this session, would handle such problems. The resolution was killed by a vote of 60 to 26.

G. O. P. ASKS ABOUT HITCHCOCK'S TRIP

WASHINGTON — Republican leaders were speculating today on a Coblenz, Gedrmany, dispatch announcing that Frank H. He is quoted as saying he was "merely on a sight-seeing trip." The state department has announced that passports are not being issued to sightseers.

G. O. MEASURE ON RAILROADS IS DEFEATED

Assembly Kills Metcalfe Resolution on Ownership

BY FRED L. HOLMES.

A resolution "demanding of congress the immediate purchase by condemnation of the entire railroad properties of the United States," was killed in the assembly today by a vote of 51 to 37.

Assemblyman Metcalfe spoke in favor of it and Assemblyman John Donnelly opposed the resolution. Metcalfe claimed that there had been great savings under government operation. He declared that there was a saving of $4,614,000 a year upon salaries of men receiving $5,000 a year; that there had been a great reduction in the number of higher salaried officials; that the reduction in legal expenses amounted to $1,500,000 annually; that unnecessary trains had been eliminated and there had been a shortening of freight routes.

Assemblyman Donnelly declared the Metcalfe resolution was too limited in scope. It provided for the condemnation of railroads and government ownership and Donnelly declared he was not sure that this was the solution of the problem.

"I think the resolution should be redrafted so that it will ask congress to appoint a committee to investigate the subject," said Mr. Donnelly. "I am rather inclined to the view of the railroad employes that the stock of the railroads should be owned by the employes themselves."

Metcalfe demanded a roll call and without further debate the resolution was indefinitely postponed.

The assembly today by a vote of 60 to 27 defused to reconsider the vote by which it killed the Chipman bill to divide the terminal railroad taxes with the counties and state.

The assembly reconsidered and killed the Kandutsch bill for the filing of all chattel mortgages with the county. The vote on indefinite postponement was 64 to 22. The Bowman bill to legalize the increases in salaries of city officials during the war was engrossed after an amendment had been incorporated striking out the provision giving a city by a three-fourths vote of the council power to change the salary of an official at any time.

A substitute amendment was offered to the Pullen bill fixing the minimum salaries of county superintendents from $900 to $2,200 a year, depending upon the number of schools under supervision.

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by C. H. Nafiz and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

He illustrated the indefiniteness and narrowness of the line between virtue and vice.

TRAVELERS

Knights of the Grip and Sample Cases Go Back Into Action.

How ye good auld knight, the Drummer, smiles these days as he tosses his sample case to the corner of the little Inn at Podunkville and peers round to greet the faces of old time friends with whom he used to hit the trail before the god known as Mars came along with all his imperial dictates.

Yea, this guy Mars sure did rip great holes and gashes in the little world of traveling men. Many a good old knight of the grip was crowded out. Mars was heartless.

But all is changed. The breathless haste of war has lulled and now can the good knight be among his own. Now can he draw up the short legged, long backed rocker with a squeak, and wedge into the smoke befogged circle in the lobby of the little hotel where they lock the door after the last train arrives at 9:15.

United Commercial Travelers of Madison, 308 strong, are all back on the road once more and the condition prevails generally throughout the country. The return to the road has been noticeable since the first of the year. "It's mighty good to see old familiar faces around the hotel lobbies once more," one salesman put it.

400 HOMES HERE IN QUARANTINE; 'FLU' DECREASES

Daily Reports to Health Board Indicate Epidemic Is on Wane.

With 400 houses under quarantine in the city, there are approximately 600 cases of influenza now known. This average of less than 2 cases per home quarantined is considered as a decided improvement in conditions by members of the health board.

But two new cases were reported shortly before noon today and 20 were reported yesterday. This showed a decrease of six under the report made Tuesday. Foru new cases were reported at the infirmary. The board ordered 35 cards taken down yesterday as compared to an average of about 15 daily during the past several weeks.

All these conditions are taken by the health department as indications that the epidemic is not only under control, but is again disappearing. Dr. Purcell is making daily visits to the homes of victims and two nurses are working among needy families.

On recommendation of Dr. Evans, head of the university clinic, the junior prom was postponed one month by the executive committee. This action was taken following a meeting held with thec linic head yesterday. Officials of the health board are, however, greatly pleased with the situation at present and express opinions that the epidemic will soon have passed.

JUST A REMINDER.

ON June 5, 1918 The Capital Times printed an editorial which we commend to those members of the senate who are planning to vote for the confirmation of the appointment of Carl D. Jackson as a member of the railroad commission.

(From Capital Times, June 8, 1918)

The railroad commission has according to The Milwaukee Leader, adopted a new method of rendering decisions.

Decisions are now delivered by train.

Another policy adopted is not to let the people know anything as to what is going on.

Last week the commission adopted an order boosting Milwaukee street car rates from six tickets for a quarter to a flat five cent rate. Nothing was given out about it here to the press. The manner in which the decision was rendered is described by The Leader as follows:

That the commission was adverse to publicity relative to the boost from six tickets for 25 cents to a flat 5 cent fare until the new scale was inaugurated at midnight Saturday, was disclosed by the attitude of Commissioner C. D. Jackson.

The conditions under which the order was handed down were the most unique in the history of regulation by the commission. City Attorney Williams was notified to be at the Northwestern station, Saturday 4 p. m., to meet Jackson. Arriving at the station, Jackson withdrew from a grip a copy of the decision, which he gave to Williams. Jackson cautioned Williams to maintain silence, explaining that he did not want anything about it in the newspapers Sunday.

How Jackson hoped to prevent publication of a story in Sunday's papers when a higher fare was inaugurated at midnight Saturday was not disclosed. Stories about the boost appeared in all Sunday papers.

A significant feature of the raise was the fact that The Electric Co. had cards announcing the raise in readiness. According to conductors these cards were placed in the cars by supervisors in such a way as to make it impossible for passengers to read them, with instructions that they be turned about so they could be read at midnight. The cards were placed in the cars about 11 p. m. Saturday.

In other words the street car company knew all about the raise but the people "who have to pay the freight" were not told about it.

But what's the use of complaining. The commissioners over at the Capitol some time ago became chair warming propositions. They are getting farther away from the people every day. It is simply the old story—regulation is as good as the personnel on the regulatory bodies. As long as we have commissions that have the public viewpoint we will get regulation in the interest of the public; when we have commissions with the corporation viewpoint we will have that kind of regulation.

Regulation was but a step in the long fight between the people and the interests. Public ownership will step in where regulation failed and public ownership is coming.

SHOULD BE PASSED

THE CAPITAL TIMES has always taken the position that Wisconsin has been niggardly and penurious in the payment of public officials. There is no more important service than service to the state. There is no line of human endeavor that should bring the best brains and the best talent than service to the state.

There is a bill in the legislature at the present time increasing the salary of circuit judges from $5,500 a year to $6,500 a year. This bill should pass.

At first glance it would seem that a salary of $5000 should be sufficient. There are so many people who get so much less than that. That is not the only consideration, however.

A man on the circuit bench occupies an important place in any community. Many public demands are made on him. He is among the first called upon for public enterprises of every kind. Charitable demands upon him are heavy. And so in the course of a year substantial inroads are made on his salary.

Unless the salary is increased there will be a danger that we will get men on the bench in Wisconsin whose ability will fit the salary. Men competent to assume places on the bench will not be able to sacrifice the difference between compensation in private practice and in public service.

Wisconsin is paying judges less than s paid in other states. In order to maintain the high standard of our circuit courts this increase should be granted.

Dinner Stories

The morning milk delivered at the parsonage was certainly weak, and the head of the household considered it necessary to remonstrate. "Are you aware," he remarked to the milkman, "that we require this milk for the hitherto recognized purposes?"

"I hope so, sir," replied the tradesman.

"That's all right, then," returned the parson gently. "I merely mentioned it in case you may have thought we wanted it for the font."

Two men were on a journey on a hot summer day. "Have you anything with you, Matthias?" asked one.

"Yes, a bottle of wine. What have you, Moses?"

"Dried tongue."

"Good! We'll divide our provisions."

Matthias produced his wine and it was divided. Then he asked his fellow traveler to bring out his provisions.

"I?" said Moses.

"Why, yes, the dry tongue you said you had."

"I haven't got one now," was the cool reply.

In a small village in Ireland the mother of a soldier met the village priest, who asked her if she had had bad news. "Sure I have," she said. "Pat has been killed."

"Oh, I am very sorry," said the priest. "Did you receive word from the war office?"

"No, she said, "I received word from himself."

The priest looked perplexed, and said, "But how is that?"

"Sure," she said, "here is the letter; read it for yourself."

The letter said, "Dear Mother—I am now in the Holy Land."

Voice of the People

A WARM ONE, IF TRUE

To the Editor of the Capital Times:

Will you be good enough to publish the following article which appeared in the Illinois Staats-Zeitung under date of Mar. 16, 1919?

"Montgomery, Ala., March 15.—The discovery of a 28-gallon capacity distillery on the farm of a high official of the Anti-Saloon league of America, has been made known to the officials of Lowden county and according to reliable information, under the bone-dry statutes of the state the authorities shall take possession of the farm."

This is one of the choicest bits of news that has come across the wire since the armistice was signed and I think is entitled to a fair amount of publicity.

As a joke on the Anti-Saloon league it stands in class A1. And it isn't the first one of its kind that has been pulled off. I admire a sincere dry man—one who firmly believes in what he preaches, but I have absolutely no use for the man who roars and rants about prohibition and is caught red-handed making moonshine! And I am convinced that I voice the sentiments of the average fair-minded man.

MR. BALLARD ON THE JUDICIAL CONTEST

To the Editor of The Capital Times:

The farmers are more vitally interested in their courts than they are in their legislature.

It matters little what legislation we pass here at Madison unless it is construed liberally to carry out its purpose and intent. You know and I know that the legislature is eternally hampered and hamstrung when it comes to passing laws in the interest of the common people by being faced with decisions of the courts against us. Always the corporation lobby appears before our committees to tell us that proposed laws are unconstitutional and they have the opinions of the courts to confound and confuse us.

It is of the greatest importance that this office be filled by a man whose sympathies have always been with the common people; a man who is and always has been a progressive from principle; a man who has a legal mindy and sense of justice that fits him for this office.

The past record of Julius T. Dithmar, in my judgment, proves him to be such a man. His experience as assistant Attorney General for 5 years, as well as county judge proves his ability to discharge duties of this position.

The present incumbent Mr. Rosenberry, is a corporation lawyer and has been a faithful servant of the great water power interests. Prior to his appointment to the bench by Governor Phillip, he was a registered and paid lobbyist of the Sreet Railway Co. and of the Wisconsin Electric Ass'n., all of which appears on the lobby register in the Secretary of State's office. These interests and the controlled newspapers are working hard for his election.

We are compelled to choose between two men who have served the interests of two great opposing groups, the people and the great corporations. "Putting a man into office does not make him a servant of the people." Put a man in whose heart is with the masses.

Julius T. Dithmar should receive the support of the laboring man and the farmers. He will not receive the support of the interests and the profiteers.

Very truly,
C. B. BALLARD.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

To the Editor of The Capital Times:

I hope you will do all in your power to have the daylight saving law repealed. We have found the law a deteriment to all on the farm. All farmers say so. In haying and harvesting we can do nothing with such crops until 9 or 10 a. m. on account of dampness and dew.

We cannot haul in hay until 1 or 2 p. m. on account of it not being fully dry. Then to quit at 6 which is 5 now, we cannot get much done. Some will say: commence and quit when we want to regardless of the time. We cannot do that because hired help will not work after 6. Then again schools, trains and churches all go by the new time, which starts us all out earlier. Consequently must quit earlier. If we want to go to show or entertainment of any kind we must quit with new time which causes us to lose 1 to 2 hours each day in the field when time is very precious in saving crops. It seems farmers get no consideration whatever.

On the Side

ADVICE TO SOLDIERS' WIVES

Serve him with a mixture of vinegar and red ink at meals for a beverage. He has been used to French wine.

At formal dinner parties watch the soldier husband carefully or he will entirely neglect three or four extra forks and cling tenaciously to one throughout the repast. His soup spoon will also be employed in his pudding and coffee.

Recall to his mind the amenities of polite society, such as removing the shoes and clothing before retiring.

You husband will now tidy up the house involuntarily, and he may be used as a substitute kitchen police when the maid wants a night out.

To delight your husband, mention his thorough knowledge of French when the neighbors are calling. Then ask him questions to which he may appropriately rely "bowkoo" or "toot sweet," the only two words he knows.

Send him on an errand at any time. He will grumble but do something. Formerly he would grumble and do nothing. F. D. D.

AT THE THEATERS

Scene from Jack Norworth's Chummy Musical Revue, "Odds and Ends" which comes to the uller Opera House, Friday & Saturday, Mar. 21-22

"OH BOY" DELIGHTS FULLER AUDIENCE

By OLIVER STANLEY

"Oh Boy," the Chicago La Salle theatre success of three seasons ago played the Fuller here last night to a fair sized and much amused audience. Although the show has become more or less old during the intervening years, its music having lost much of the novelty first attached to it the notes of which managed to reach us some time ago, the audience was pleased immensely apparently and helped hum most of the melodies. The music, however, from the capable brain of Jerome Kern, is of that variety which will never exactly grow old. "Oh Boy" was all that was expected of it and a little more.

Unlike most musical comedies the piece has a clever little plot running throughout and includes many well constructed and humorous situations. The piece details the adventures and plights of one George Budd, a reformed member of "the boys" who is secretly married. At various times he has to account for the presence in his room of a bevy of chorus girls, a slangy young woman whom he introduces as a Quaker aunt and finally when the aunt makes her appearance, has to do some tall thinking to "square" the situation. The genuine aunt is induced to partake of liquid of uncertain alcoholic contents with the usual result. The antics of the woman, garbed in the brown and white of the estimable Pennsylvania pioneers, provoke much merriment despite the fact that one of the best and soundest of our early American sects is ridiculed and burlesqued in anything but a pleasing manner.

Lavinia Winn does the slangy actress in a typical manner, Harry Meyers plays George Budd and John Philliber plays the character part of Budd's valet. He manages to get a whole lot out of the lines assigned to him. Theodora Warfield as Lou-Ellen Carter, who later becomes the bride of Budd, is charming. She lacks the usual touch which long association in theatricals gives the average actress and appears as the unsophisticated and trusting young woman she is expected to play. Her voice too, is soothing, almost childlike. As in the case of the premier the music of "An Old Fashioned Wife" and "Flubby Dub, the Caveman" proved most popular.

Manager Hugh Flannery announces that on Friday "Odds and Ends," a musical comedy with Max Bloom will be here. On March 29th the popular "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" will play here for the night and matinee.

AT THE NEW STRAND

Thomas Ince's special feature production, "The False Faces," which will open at the New Strand today for a three day engagement is a powerful photoplay. "The False Faces," a picturization of Louis Joseph Vance's Saturday Evening Post serial story and was produced by the Paramount-Artcraft Co., it being their biggest picture in ten months.

AT THE ORPHEUM

"Making Movies," the Orpheum novelty, will be on this afternoon and for the rest of the week, when new motion picture scenes will be posed for by a number of Madison people. New scenes will be taken at every performance, with Tom Ward the well known photo play man as director.

The Foor Casters, a sensational aerial act; Ray Snow, the Man About Town; Hooper & Burkhart, in songs and comedy, and the Dancing McDonalds, are to open their engagement this afternoon. Pictures of world events will be shown.

THE GRAND

"The Whirlpool," the Select production featuring Miss Alice Brady, will be shown at the Grand again today. "The Whirlpool" is a romantic drama with a mystery which is well sustained to the end. Miss Brady as the girl on whose past rests a shadow, changes the whole course of her life to save a judge who was threatened with mental collapse.

AT THE FULLER

D. W. Griffith's latest photo-drama, "The Greatest Thing in Life," which has been drawing the crowds to the Fuller for the past three days, will be offered today, afternoon and night for the last times. This production, which features Lillian Gish, Robert Harron and other Griffith favorites, tells a most interesting story of today, with its scenes laid in this country and France.

MAJESTIC

Four Times a beautiful young girl was deceived by men who professed undying love for her and thus came to dread and fear all men. Such, very briefly, is the story of "Why I would Not Marry," the William Fox morality play to be seen for the last times today at the Majestic.

"ODDS AND ENDS"

Interest in the coming to the Fuller Friday and Saturday nights, with a Saturday matinee of Max Bloom in his new musical comedy, "Odds and Ends," as indicated by the demand for tickets is most unusual and it looks as if this popular player will be greeted by three capacity houses.

Movie Notes

It is thought to be quite a feat now for a motion picture actress to divide her time between the stage and the screen and to both equally well at the same time. The youngest motion picture star, however, who has tried to do two things at once is little Madge Evans, the World Pictures star. Madge is not acting on the stage as her pet sideline but busies herself with a hat company which is all her own.

At present she is taking a trip to Toronto, Cleveland, and Philadelphia and other cities for the sole purpose of exploiting the children's hats made by her own company. This trip follows the little girl's triumph at the first Annual Children's Fashion Show which was held in the Bush Terminal Sales Building, New York, recently under the auspices of the International Buyers' club.

RUSSIAN PART FOR NORMA.

Joseph M. Schenck last week engaged an attractive bungalow for Norma Talmadge at Saranac Lake, where the outdoor scenes of the yet unchristened Russian story on which Miss Talmadge is now at work will be taken.

Some of those who will accompany Miss Talmadge to Saranac next week are Mrs. Talmadge, who is visiting her daughter, Norma, for three months; and Joseph M. Schenck, Pedro de Cordoba, who plays the principal part opposite Miss Talmadge; Margaret Courtot, Marguerite Clayton, Marc McDermott, Betty Hutchinson, Stuart Holmes, Charles Gerard, Harry Sothern, nephew of the distinguished actor, E. H. Sothern, and Maude Allen. This surely looks like an all-star cast.

TO CLEAR LAND WITH POWDER NOW IN STOCK

Interior Department Receives Amount Valued at Twelve Million

MUCH FOR ROAD WORK

Sodium Nitrate Will be Used for Agricultural and Commercial Purposes

WASHINGTON—Settlement of claims involving detailed inventories and reviews of accounts is slowing up cancellation of war contracts, the war department announced today in a statement which showed that of $2,941,000,000 in contracts recommended for cancellation the actual closing out had reached a total of $185,132,068 on Feb. 27.

It was disclosed also that explosives valued at $12,000,000 had been transferred from surplus stocks to the interior department for land clearing, road building and similar work; and that more than half of the billion and a half pounds of surplus sodium nitrate valued at $57,000,000 would be disposed of for agricultural and commercial purposes. The remainder is to be held for the present by the ordnance department.

The nitrate surplus acquisitions since the beginning of the war. The department of agriculture is to acquire from the army 284,000,000 pounds for use as fertilizer, paying costs price while the remaining surplus in the United States will be handl l through the nitrate board and the American Nitrate pool. The surplus in Chile, representing about a third of the total, will be handled through the British pool at not less than cost price.

The agreement reached with the American nitrate pool, it is stated, provides for return of the surplus to the concerns from which it was purchased, to be sold at market price and without restriction in the period prior to the withdrawal of importation barriers. After these restrictions have been withdrawn, the manufacturer sand importers have agreed to one pound of government stock for every two pounds of their own.

The explosives will be stored temporarily at various war department magazines including that at Sparta, Wis.

50 MT. HOREB FARMERS ARE AGAINST RATES

Phone Raises Are Opposed By Delegation of Farmers

Fifty farmers from Mt. Horeb, Black Earth and vicinity appeared before the Wisconsin railroad commission Wednesday afternoon to protest the application for an increase of rates, tolls and charges made by the Mt. Horeb Independent Telephone company at the hearing Dec. 10.

Gettle & Torgo appeared for the farmers; Pratt and Odegard appeared for the Mt. Horeb company; J. W. Cowie on behalf of the Mt. Vernon Telephone company, and Ferdinand Schulenburg on behalf of the Farmers' Union Telephone company.

The farmers claimed that for lack of information they did not appear at the first hearing and desired a second hearing on the rate question. The first hearing was to increase the rates from $12 to $20, but the main fight was on the 10 cent toll on the connecting towns with Mt. Horeb. Heretofore the exchange has been free.

The burden of the farmers was that the 10 cent burden was too great. The business men from Black Earth and Mt. Horeb estimated that their toll bill would be from $120 to $150 a year.

Among those present were: Magnus Forshaug, Black Earth; Anton Rockstad, Black Earth; Ray Bean, Mt. Horeb; Ed Bohn, town of Vermont; Otto B. Daver, Mt. Horeb; John Hirsig, Mt. Horeb; Thomas Argue, Mt. Horeb; Joe Schlimgen, town of Primrose; Henry Kittlesno, town of Perry; Martin Marty, town of Perry; John Monum, Mt. Horeb; Ed. Anderson, town of Springgreen; L. J. Rue, town of Primrose; Louis Bang, Mt. Horeb; C. L. Thoreson, Mt. Vernon; Louis Eggum, Mt. Horeb; Fred Thousand, Mt. Horeb; John Fargo, Mt. Horeb; and A. J. Dybdahl, president of the Black Earth Telephone company.

GAME LAWS

State Legislature Apparently Takes Little Interest in Protective Measures.

The legislature is taking little interest in changing the game laws of the state. Assemblyman McClone, Outagamie county, has offered the largest number of game measures at the session, but a large number of these bills have already been defeated. The "crow" law will remain on the statute books in its present form. This permits the county board to pass a resolution offering bounties for crows. Assemblyman McClone attempted to make this law compulsory upon the counties and to include blackbirds as well. He claimed that crows were ruining farmer's corn. Others there were who lauded the crow as a great public benefactor. Assemblyman Ploetz claimed that the crow ate tobacco worms that in the fall are plentiful in the potato section of the state. The result was that by a large vote the assembly defeated the McClone compulsory measure. The blackbird will continue to sing his "O-kee-lee" from the marsh cattails without having a bounty placed upon his head.

Bills have been enacted providing for shelter blinds on certain lakes and providing an open season for the racoon in Marathon county. The attempt to have a bill passed for the extermination of the skunk failed. Bills to increase trappers' fees, for a complete report from all trappers of the state, were likewise defeated. There are still upwards of fifty fish and game bills to be considered by the legislature, however.

Proposals of Three Scandinavian Countries are Almost Identical.

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS — The neutral countries of Europe, Asia and South America will be given opportunity today to express their views and propose amendments to the league of nations plan. Nearby neutrals such as Holland and Switzerland have sent delegates in response to the invitation of the supreme council while more distant countries will be represented by ambassadors and ministers residing in Paris.

The meeting will be held at the hotel De Crillon, the American headquarters.

Lord Robert Cecil of Great Britain will be chairman and Premier Venizelos of Greece, Dr. Vesnitch of Serbia, Paul Hymans of Belgium, Col. House of the United States and Leon Bourgeois of France will sit as members of the sub-commission. The claims of neutrals will be heard either directly or by memorandum, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland, Spain, Persia and Guatemala and most of the South American neutrals having suggestions to make.

The three scandinavian countries will present virtually identical proposals it is understood these being in the main favorable to the league and asking that neutrals be admitted to membership.

LABOR TROUBLE ACCOUNTS FOR GEORGE LEAVING

Newspaper Prints Reason for Premier Quitting Paris for England

PARIS — L'Homme Libre, discussing the appeal of President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau and Premier Orlando to Premier Lloyd George that he remain in Paris until the chief questions connected with peace should be settled, emphasizes that the critical situation in Great Britain, arising from labor troubles which the British premier is facing is sufficient to explain his impatience to return to London. Members of Assembly Object to Resolution on Independence

A humorous resolution by Assemblyman George Czerwinski, purporting to rescind the vote of Feb. 6 by which the assembly went on record in favor of independence of Ireland, was presented at the close of the session as a slap at the Irish members from Milwaukee, who took a two days' recess for St. Patrick's day. Kaney resented the resolution as an insult and Donnelly objected to its being read. It was referred for discussion Saturday.

The Ad and the Man

He saw an ad from day to day
And muttered: "I defy it;
Their stuff may be just what they say,
But I'm not going to buy it."
As time wore on he made remarks
It would not do to mention,
For he was mad because that ad
Was forced on his attention.
But in a week, or two, or three,
He said: "There's no denying
The way that ad gets hold of me—
The stuff may be worth trying."
For just a fortnight more
He dared mere words to win him,
And then the ad completely had
Aroused the spender in him.
Next day he drifted in a store
And quietly expended
A few big iron dollars for
The stuff the ad commended.
He found it filled a long-felt need;
Its excellence surprised him
And now he's glad because the ad
So deftly hypnotized him.

GREEKS DEFEAT REDS, IS REPORT

Victory at Kherson Won Over Forces Four Times Stronger, is Claim

(By the Associated Press)

SALONIKI—The Greek victory at Kherson was won over a Bolsheviki force of four times the strength of the Greek division engaged, Greek army headquarters announced. The statement declares the Bolshevik armies have been reorganized and are under the command of German officers, a large number of whom participated in the battle. The statement says:

"The commandant of the second division of Greek troops reports a brilliant victory at Kherson over forces of Bolshevik four times the number of the Green troops engaged. He says the Greek arms were covered with new laurels. The Bolshevik forces have been completely reorganized as to rifles, artillery and machine guns and are commanded by German officers, of whom a large number took part in the fighting.

KLEIST BILL IS OPPOSED; CITE "FLU" DANGERS

Senate Committee on Public Welfare Cheers "U" President

Strong opposition to the Kleist bill for the use of the seven S. A. T. C. barracks at the University of Wisconsin as dormitories for students developed at the hearing before the senate committee on public welfare Wednesday afternoon. President E. A. Birge and Dr. C. R. Bardeen, dean of the medical school, appeared in opposition to the proposal. The barracks were pictured as a fine breeding den for the "flu."

Former Assemblyman Glenn Turner and Senator Kleist appeared before the committee in favor of the bill. They claimed that this would give a cheap and inexpensive method of housing students coming to the university until the state felt able to build a dormitory system, such as was proposed by the 1913 legislature.

President Birge said that when barracks were built at the university it was hoped that on the conclusion of the war they might be used for the purpose suggested in the Kleist bill. But experience at the university in dealing with the "flu" epidemic, taught a different story.

"Our experience at the university during the epidemic last fall showed that barracks of this character are unsafe from the sanitary standpoint since acute respiratory infections spread rapidly in rooms in which many are housed," said President Birge. "There was the least amount of serious illness among those who lived under ordinary conditions, the greatest among those who lived under barrack conditions; that is, many sleeping in one room, even when the room was large and not overcrowded."

When it was found that barracks could not be used in their present condition, the cost of fitting them into small rooms was considered. It was found that this would entail a cost of about $110,000. Each barracks would, under the old plan, house 132 students and under the room plan, 43 students. There were seven barracks at the university.

Just before the hearing came to a close, with every indication that the bill would be unfavorably reported, Dr. C. R. Bardeen, of the medical staff, told the committee that the "flu" epidemic will hang around in one form or another for the next two or three years.

FIRST U. S. WOMAN TO CROSS RHINE

Miss Frances Marion.

The very first American woman to cross the Rhine was Miss Frances Marion. Miss Marion in everyday life is a writer of motion picture scenarios, but during the war she was a propagandist for the committee of public information. She went to France last fall with the purpose of filming the activities of women in war and also of doing some secret propaganda work for the government.

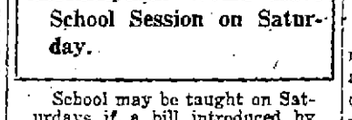
WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND

Apologies to Claire Briggs



Assemblyman Would Have School Session on Saturday.

School may be taught on Saturdays if a bill introduced by Assemblyman John W. Porter, Jefferson county, becomes a law. The bill amends section 40.28 of the statutes which provides that 20 days of teaching shall constitute a school month unless it be otherwise specified in the contract. The new section reads:

The first day of January, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, all days declared to be holidays by proclamation of the President of the United States or the governor of this state, and the twenty-fifth day of December are legal holidays for schools. Saturdays may be legally counted when school is actually taught with the consent of the school board or the board of education."

DEFEAT FOR CHAPPLE BILL ON INSURANCE

Many Fraternal Organizations Objected to Terms Advocated by Cleary

There is every indication that the Wisconsin assembly will defeat the Chapple bill requiring all fraternal insurance societies to maintain an adequate reserve and adequate rates as suggested by the National Fraternal Congress. The bill has been unfavorably recommended by the insurance committee of the house by a vote of 7 to 2.

The Chapple bill was offered in the lower house of the legislature at suggestion of Insurance Commissioner M. J. Cleary, who appears in hearings in favor of the bill. He claims that some fraternal insurance companies in Wisconsin are not charging high enough rate and that when some of the present policy holders become old the rate of insurance will be so increased that they may be unable to continue it. A number of fraternal insurance companies in Wisconsin who have gone on the adequate rate basis appeared before the committee in favor of the bill. Two weeks ago when the bill was first given a hearing there was every indication that it would be favorably recommended. In the meantime however, petitions containing more than 30,000 names, most of them members of the Modern Woodmen of America, have been filed with the legislature in opposition of the bill.

BENEFIT TICKET SALES ARE HEAVY

The Fatherless Children of France will receive a substantial fund from the benefit performance of the Pavley-Oukrainsky Ballet and the Little Symphony, if the advance mail order sale is any indication.

But, says Professor Eugene Byrne, people should be urged to specify whether they want tickets for the evening or the afternoon performance.

The wards of the city are being thoroughly canvassed for the sale of tickets by committees under the following chairmen:

First ward, Mrs. Reginald Jackson.

Second ward, Mrs. A. D. Frederickson.

Third ward, Mrs. C. A. Harper.

Fifth ward, Mrs. H. R. Trumbower.

Sixth ward, Mrs. John Lake.

Tenth ward, Mrs. Gilbert Smith.

The canvass of the legislature is being undertaken by Mrs. Roy Wilcox, with the aid of Mrs. A. H. Wilkinson, Mrs. R. Anderson, Mrs. Kuckuk, Mrs. Clark, and Mrs. Riley Young. Mrs. Glenn Turner has organized a committee for the canvass of the Capitol.

Burch of Madison has been selected to act as temporary chairman at the opening meeting Monday. It is probable other Madison contractors and dealers will attend the state meet.

URGES PASSAGE OF NEW LOAN LAW

Kenosha Charities Head Argues in Favor of Anderson Bill

That a total of 85 per cent interest per annum may now be charged on small loans under the laws of Wisconsin was the claim made to the assembly committee on insurance and banking Wednesday afternoon by H. D. Maddock, secretary of the Kenosha Associated Charities, while arguing in favor of the P. M. Anderson bill regulating the business of the small loans. The bill, he declared, was the one worked out and developed by the Russell Sage Foundation after an exhaustive study and had proven a sucless in every state where it has been tried. He declared it is a protection to the borrower and to the person making the loan. The matter is placed in the hands of the banking commissioners under the provisions of the bill.

Action was deferred until next Wednesday by the committee to give Col. Marshall Cousins, commissioner of banking, to study the bill and render an opinion to the committee.

AMEND NEW BILL ON INSURANCE

Provision Made for County Agents to Solicit Applications for Fund

The assembly committee on insurance and banking offered an amendment to the Masiakowski State Life Insurance bill today and recommended the bill as so amended for passage.

The bill provides for the appointment by the insurance commissioner of three solicitors or agents in Milwaukee county and one in each other county to solicit applications for the state life insurance fund. The original bill provided for a fee of $5 for each application and 10 per cent of the amount of the premium to be paid the agent.

The committee amendment provides for a fee of 50 cents on each $100 of insurance or annuity and in addition 10 per cent of such premium to the agent.

The committee killed the Czerwinski amendment which would have inserted the following into the bill:

"Each such agent shall make particular effort to have soldiers, sailors, marines and members of the army and navy corps, who are residents of Wisconsin, convert their term insurance, issued by the United States, into state life policies. No one policy shall be issued for an amount in excess of $10,000."

Road patrolmen of Dane county met at the court house yesterday afternoon at which time a number of road experts of the county gave short talks on various problems met with in road maintenance. Among the speakers were W. H. Summers, Blue Mounds, chairman of the Dane county highway commission. He spoke on aims of the school for the patrolmen and admonished them to follow out instructions received in making roads of the county a source of pride to its citizens. William Ryan of Janesville spoke briefly on problems of cuts and fills in highways of the county and how these obstacles of this nature could best be met by patrolmen in their road activities. F. M. Balsley, division engineer, gave a talk on modified penetration.

Other speakers were W. E. Gifford on Concrete Culverts, State Highway Engineer A. R. Hirst on Patrol Maintenance from the State's Viewpoint, H. L. Sommers on Forms Which Must Be Kept by Patrolmen and W. H. Somers on Patrolmen's Duties. F. M. Lipke, county highway commissioner, outlined the things which he expected from the patrolmen and gave them advice in proceeding with the year's work.

STRONGER MEN TAKE THE LEAD

They Have Nerves of Iron and Real Red Fighting Blood

Vital force is the material from which leaders in all walks of life are made. It is well worth getting and holding.

The health and nerve of the athlete is what Nature intended every man and woman to have.

The blood of an athlete is pure and red, a strong heart pumps and drives it through his body. No wonder that every inch of his system is filled with energy and health, his nerves like iron, spirits high, hard tasks a pleasure and life one song of joy.

A leading Doctor says, "Everyone should feel this way. That if you are not red blooded, are nervous, all run down and on your last legs, for you to build up your blood and nerves with exercise, fresh air, nourishing food and Nature's great prescription, Phosphated Iron a real blood and nerve builder".

He also says, "Phosphated Iron feeds the blood cells with iron and Nerve force, and that leading specialists are now using it successfully all over the country, that it is one of the few remedies that better class doctors can now depend on to produce results".

FLU EPIDEMIC WORRIES THE LEGISLATURE

Senator Olson and Chief Clerk Shaffer Go To the Hospital

The possibility of a "flu" epidemic in the legislature hangs like a ghost over the members. The legislature will give consideration to the matter this evening. The sudden illness of Senator Olson, who was sent to the hospital from the upper house Wednesday, and of Chief Clerk Shaffer, while at duty, has thrown a chill into the membership.

The house appointed a committee composed of Assemblyman Axel Johnson, Donnelly and Metcalfe to confer with the senate with reference to an adjournment of possibly two weeks.

The house is rushing at breakneck speed to get the work of the week out of the way. A night session will be held to clean up the calendar and the house will probably take up Friday's calendar also at tonight's session.

Dr. C. A. Harper has told the legislature that there is no cause for alarm if the sanitary rules are followed. There has been some complaint because of the large committee hearings. The senate seems to be opposed to taking a two weeks' adjournment.

A LETTER AND THE REPLY.

West Menasha, Mar. 6, 1919.
Dear Sir and Brother:—

Replying to your nice letter, I wish to say that I was somewhat surprised that any one, much less a man of your position should take the trouble to write regarding the injurd feelings, real or imaginary, of one so insignificant as the writer. However, I will say candidly that while I have implicit confidence in your ability and fearlessness, and your devotion to the cause of Equity, I cannot endorse the extremely radical and socialistic views to which your writings give exppression.

I believe it to be absolutely wrong and un-American at a time like this for any man, much less the leader of a great farmer organization, to sympathize with, coodle or even recognize proven criminals of the bomb throwing fraternity—or to permit the Equity press to continue to assist in the creation and intensifying of the already dangerous feeling of unrest and dissatisfaction which exists between capital and labor, or in attempting to Russianize our beautiful land of freedom and plenty, even though some of our laws are perhaps quite susceptible to improvement.

And then the never-ending ceaseless harping about "Big Bis." Is not the A. S. of E. a rather big biz taking into consideration the business done by it, and are w not all striving to become a bigger biz, even to the extent of employing a corps of organizers, whose duty it is to inspire a feeling of distrust in the minds of prospective additions to this "Big Biz" bursting organization toward local dealers in all commodities which farmers buy or sell?

While we are preaching fairness, honesty, industry, impartiality, unity, unselfishness and all the other beautiful characteristics of men and organizations, it is well to always keep in mind the fact that action speaks louder than words.

No. J. N., indeed I'm not seriously offended. While I'm rather small and narrow I'm broad enough to concede to every man the right to speak and act as he believes proper, but I must reserve the right to disagree and also criticize on occasions. But I also remember and appreciate the sound logic of the saying, that an honest difference of opinion should not prevent friendship between neighbors, and therefore, I hope, though we may have drifted apart politically, our meeting may be as cordial and pleasant as formerly.

If you desire, you are at liberty to publish this letter (as it is) and your answer in the Equity News.

Respectfully yours,
WM. GRIMES.
R. 11 Neenah.

Answering Bro. Grimes' letter above:

First, I should like to have any one point out a single socialistic tenet which I have expressed in any of my writings. A great many people who talk about socialism do not know what socialist is or means.

Second: I should like to have any one show in my writings or in my speech that I have "sympathized with or recognized proven criminals of the bomb throwing fraternity." Bro. Grimes probably condemns President Wilson for his effort in securing a fair trial for Mooney. Does Bro. Grimes approve the President or disapprove? I approve of the President's action. If this is what Bro. Grimes means, I am surprised at the position he takes. I am entirely satisfied that Bro. Grimes is not informed as to the exact situation or he would not accuse me of sympathizing with Mooney when as a matter of fact I am simply sustaining with millions of others the action of the President of the United States. In this respect Bro. Grimes is on untenable ground.

Third: I am not sole manager of the Equity Press. I am not its editor. I know there is no intention to create or intensify any feeling of unrest. The fact of the matter is, capital and labor must get together soon or a mighty serious situation will develop in this country. Stepping on a sunbeam will not put out the sun. Labor is dissatisfied; the farmer is not satisfied; capital is dissatisfied. We are discussing all of these primary subjects in the hope that we can bring out all things well. Our country's heart is sound and pure. It can be kept so only by following out the precepts of Jesus and Lincoln. If Brother Grimes will write me at any time concerning matters in the Equity News that he disapproves, we will undertake to correct the same or at least give his views full expression in the columns of the News. The News belongs to the members and not to the officials.

Fourth: As a matter of fact I do not think that Brother Grimes will go to the length of stating that I am attempting to Rusianize America. On the other hand, I am not so certain that we can even safely Americanize Russia. We must get nearer to practicing what we preach here in America before we begin to preach anywhere else. I imagine Elihu Root's trip to Russia did more harm to Americanism than any other thing ever imported there. Tittemore nor the Equity News did not do that.

Fifth: I do not think Brother Grimes gets the right idea of "Big Biz." I never use the expression in my writings at all. I think Brother Long does. The expression means nothing to me. Whenever I speak of the great interests I mean those "predatory rich;" those "unconscionable rascals, the packers;" those "scions of big interest, who if they persist in bringing on a panic may be hung on a gibbet as high as Hamans." These are the expressions from Wilson or his subordinates in office. If Brother Grimes does not like the expressions of our President I can give him a few "choice bits" from the late Theodore Roosevelt. Of course in referring to Big Business we have in mind those "malefactors of great wealth" who, according to Roosevelt are "unconscionable robbers;" or rather we have in mind those "undesirable citizens" such as Harriman and Morgan, et al. Of course we are undertaking in a big way to organize the farmers to meet the ends of society in a way that will be complete and helpful to the public interest. There is no reasonable parallel to be made with the interests Brother Grimes refers to.

Sixth: Neither myself, the society nor any one else to my knowledge is trying to destroy local dealers anywhere. Does Brother Grimes mean to intimate that the farmer has no right to cooperate, to buy or sell. I should like to have him answer this question. It is fundamental.

Seventh: Will Brother Grimes state even one case where I have preached unfairness, dishonesty, laziness, prejudice or partiality, disunion, or selfishness? It is the first time I have ever been accused of anything of the sort. On March 17th I shall talk at Cadott, Wisconsin, to the City Progressive League on the subject of the farmer and villager getting together. May I ask Brother Grimes this question: What action of mine has ever belied the society's fundamental principles?

Eighth: I am not willing to say that Brother Grimes is small and narrow. Quite the contrary. I do not believe he understands exactly what is being done or the motives for doing it. He is not close enough to get the inner view. I am certain as time goes on that he will broaden out in this respect. I feel sure that he will not criticize right motives or right actions. When he does, I hope he will do it in the Equity News. This may bring out the best that is in us all. I have a deep feeling of friendship for Brother Grimes which is not lessened one iota because of any misjudgment of me. I am sensible enough to realize that just now I am undertaking to do more than I should for my own financial good, the good of my health and possibly for the good of many others, but I am in serious doubt whether at this moment it is not necessary to do the very things we are doing if we bring the farm movement up to equal heights with other great movements or else if it slips back again, I doubt if this generation will see it rise. I do not believe that fundamentally Brother Grimes and I have drifted apart politically. It may be that in a partisan sense we may not be united, but in the higher sense of erecting a great economic edifice and then giving it political (righteous) control and regulation I still believe we stand together.

J. N. TITTEMORE.

NEED OF GOOD RURAL TEACHERS

If Senator Wilcox of the Wisconsin legislature thinks to maintain a high standard of teaching in Wisconsin the minimum salary of $70 for school teachers should be in force. He has introduced such a bill on the grounds that the qualifications of teachers are going to be raised next year.

The last few years there has been a scarcity of teachers in our rural districts and there is no greater task given any school board than the choice of a teacher in times like the past. Too much lottery business in it. Too many inexperienced young teachers in our schools who needs to be hired to fill up the vacancies. Of course any board is willing to pay a good wage for a good teacher, but to pay the general run of teachers that we get such high wages only tends to weaken our schools. If high wages for our teachers is one demand of education, which, of course, it is, then a greater demand is the need of better teachers and more of them for our rural schools.

So many times you hire a teacher that is good in her teaching capacity but wholly lacking in her discipline, or just the opposite. Then again their conduct outside of school hurts their cause. A good all around teacher is hard to find and a jewel of great price to the district that finds her. A school is but its community's educational instrument and just as good or bad as its people want it to be, providing it has access to good teachers. That is what is needed, especially in our rural schools.

Too many times city girls that come into the country to teach do more toward leading the country people to the cities, than they help to create a deeper interest or wider usefulness in the community. They spend all their vacations in town and bring back to their work talk about urban life instead of country life. I sometimes believe we will never have it just right until we can have schools and also a home for the teachers together, including a piece of land. What we need in the country is thoroughly trained men and women to teach our children, to counsel and work with them, men and women who know frmo practical and theoretical paints of view, both country needs and the value of learning. Of course, you say if wages are made higher, qualifications of the teachers will be higher. That teachers would need to take four years' high school and two years additional training. In such a case we would find difficulty in meeting the demand at first, but higher wages might "hurry up" the supply although such a requirement would make many, many of our girls who have the makings of good teachers, seek other employment in preference of spending so much time and expense in preparing for a teacher's life. Probably get married before. The greatest question we have before us is how to secure efficient, broad-minded teachers. The social position and recognition of teachers in a community have much to do toward helping its betterment, therefore a teacher needs to be a leader, one who can command respect for their high morals and professional attainments; also a teacher whose standards of culture and discipline are high, but at the same time can be beloved by both pupil and parent.

Who can realize or estimate what a great uplift that would be felt in our state if its country children could have such teachers. Where can we get them and how? The minimum salary law now before the legislature is a step in the right direction.

Mrs. W. Rich.

Happenings in the Madison Bowling World Told for the Fans.

Plans for the Madison bowling tournament are being discussed by the fans. It has been suggested that the meet ought to include teams from surrounding cities such as Stoughton, Watertown, Sun Prairie, Janesville, Beloit, Portage and other places—a sort of a Central Wisconsin pin gathering. It sounds like a reasonable iden. Madison certainly has the accommodations for such a tourney.

* * *

A. Mortenson of the Tanks rolled the best total for three games, 564, in the Stoughton City league at Olson's alleys Tuesday night. The Tanks won two out of three from the Dreadnoughts, while the Cruisers were taking two from the Submarines.

* * *

Prospects for a "Schillinger" team in the coming city tourney are bright. Word has just been received that Pvt. John Schillinger, who has been engaged in reconstruction work, has left Philadelphia for Camp Grant from where he expects to be discharged some time next week. Louie and Jake have been hitting the pins on Madison alleys all winter, and Frank joined in as soon as he wes discharged from the navy a short while ago. It is only necessary to secure one of the two Schillinger brothers, who are not living in Madison, to make a full five-man team.

* * *

"Hank" Gotfredson and "Al" Rogers have rolled into second place with 1,205 in the "Ragtime" tourney which ends at the Wisconsin alleys today. Fuller and Etter are third with 1,791. Gotfredson and Adams still hold first with 1,265.

* * *

The Knights of Columbus are planning to finish up the season with a singles and doubles tournament.

* * *

The Janesville submarine that hit Sun Prairie last night sunk every bowling leader in sight without warning. It scrambled past the Pan Dandys in the five-man event with 2,789. Then it dove after the doubles and sunk the good ship Knoche-Schaub with a 1,217 score. The third time it dove Frank Schillinger, singles' leader, was the victim. "Doc" Richards passed him with 669. Those Janesville "Goldfish" have got the U-boats beat a mile.

CLAIMS 100-POUND TITLE

Another city title claimant has come forward in the person of the Liberty basketball team which defeated the Lathrop five, 26 to 21, at the Lincoln school gym Wednesday night. The Liberty five claims the 100-pound championship. Oldenberg at Badger 2458 will answer challengers.

Last night's lineup:

Lathrop		Liberty Five
Erickson	RF	Binglestorf
Schubring	LF	Oldenberg
English	C	Woleven
Goddard	RG	Carlson
Horstmeyer	LG	Otis

Substitute—Kittleson for Schubring.

Baskets—Erickson, 1; Schubring, 2; English, 2; Goddard, 4; Horstmeyer, 1; Kittleson, 1; Binglestorf, 6; Oldenberg, 2; Woleven, 4; Otis, 1. Free throw—English, 1.

LINCOLN SEVENTH WINS

A close 6 to 5 basketball game was won by the Lincoln school seventh grade over the eighth grade Wednesday night. Kittleson, Holm, Smock, Quisling and Swanson were on the winning team. Smith, Schubring, Allen, Severt and Onsgard were the eighth graders.

Johnson's Fake Story Falls Flat

By Jack Keene

Jack Johnson's signed statement recently given out, in which he says that the Willard-Johnson bout was a prearranged affair and that he allowed Willard to win is about the weakest piece of bunk that has bobbed up in the world of sport in many moons.

It got the reception it deserved. I haven't met a soul who was inclined to believe a word of it.

Had the fight been framed the truth would have leaked out before this.

Johnson tips off his hand at the end of his statement.

He says that unless Willard agrees to fight him in a reasonable time to prove that Willard beat him Jack will claim the title.

Johnson, being down and out, wants some more coin to blow in. He hopes—in vain—that some promoter will fall for his line of talk and match him with Dempsey, Fulton or some other well known heavy if not with Willard and give Johnson some dough.

Johnson won't get away with it.

Bert Niehoff, who began last season with the Cardinals and finished it with the Giants, may find himself in the American league this year. Bert's immediate future has been shrouded in uncertainty for the past few weeks and even he is not quite sure where he will be found cavorting when the teams start on the annual chase of the elusive pennant. However, John McGraw has suggested to Clark Griffith that he grab Niehoff.

Connie Mack has released Claude Davidson, a graduate of Brown university, so that Davidson can sign with the Cincinnati team. He is a promising infielder and drove in the winning runs in four of the games in which he played for Connie. Claude asked for his release so he could join Moran's team.

Some Chicago fans believe Kid Gleason will use Harvey McClelland in the infield this year. McClelland, developed as a third baseman in the Western league, looked good last spring, but passed up baseball to join the navy.

Baseball Will Miss Quinlan

BY N. E. BROWN.

"I lasted only one inning in the big game, but I'll say I got a lot of action out of it." That's the optimistic view Tommy Quinlan, well known baseball player, takes regarding the sacrifice he made in the cause of liberty.

Quinlan has played his last ball game. Two days before the armistice was signed Tommy went into action in the Argonne forest and an hour or two after the fun begun Quinlan was so seriously wounded that he lost a leg and an eye.

He is now in Walter Reed hospital in Washington, regaining his health and waiting for his wounds to heal.

Quinlan never starred in the big leagues, although he received two chances, one with the Cardinals in 1912 and one with the White Sox in 1915. But, boys, how he could pound that old apple in the minor leagues. He gave all the pitchers a few early gray hairs. He averaged between .290 and .315 with the willow.

After the 1917 campaign he took a job in the shipyard and was placed in a deferred class in the draft as a result. But Tommy wasn't one of the type who coveted the deferred classification. He asked to be moved up and his wish was granted.

He trained at Camp Lee, Va., and was sent across as a replacement in Company K of the Twenty-eighth infantry, the first regular division.

Tommy didn't get into action until Nov. 9. That morning his division went to the front. They were driving the Germans back in the face of a rain of high explosives when one shell struck near Tommy. Despite his wounds Quinlan walked to a dressing station a mile back. Later, at the field hospital, it was decided his arm would have to be amputated and his left eye removed.

He arrived in the U. S. recently.

He will be fitted with an artificial arm and trained to work with this handicap before Uncle Sam turns him loose.

"The war took away my only means of earning money, but trust Uncle Sam to take care of me until he has taught me to earn a living some other way," says cheerful Tommy.

TAKE EVERY FIRST PLACE IN TOURNEY

Janesville Bowlers Clean-Up at Sun Prairie With High Scores

First places in the five-man event, the doubles, the singles, and the all-events of the Sun Prairie tournament were taken by the bowlers of Richards' Goldfish team of Janesville at Sun Prairie Wednesday. A 2,789 total took the lead in the team event. Dr. S. F. Richards and Robbins scored 1,217 in the two-man; Richards annexed 669 in the singles, and his total for the all-events was 1,819. The latter's score in the five-man event was 1,003.

The Janesville bombardment displaced the Pan Dandy five, which was in first place with 2,773; it displaced Knoche and Schaub of Madison, who were leading the doubles with 1,150; and it displaced Frank Schillinger, who held first place in the singles with a 630 score.

Dick Hoblitzel isn't very peeved because the Red Sox released him. Dick's going to stick to dentistry either in the army or in civilian life.

LOCAL BOWLERS ROLL AT TOLEDO

TOLEDO, O.—Competition in the two men and individual events of the 19th annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress will be resumed today.

Madison, Wis.; Cleveland, Lexington and Buffalo are cities represented in the second squad. The Capital Alleys and the Madison Kipp five are the Madison teams.

None of the competitors were able yesterday to touch the high marks. A St. Louis pair, J. Yerkes and G. Rautenberg, made the highest doubles score Tuesday with a team count of 1,224, which took them into third place in the list of first 10.

On the same shift J. Fleuger and E. Wilder also of St. Louis, went into fourth place with a score of 1,214.

The Overlands of Toledo rolled into seventh place in the standings on the first squad of five man teams Wednesday night with a score of 2,865. The Overlands had 961 in the first game, 978 in the second and 926 in the third.

BADGER IDEA TAKEN UP BY TWO COLLEGES

Wisconsin Will Hold 1920 Meet, Coach Jones Declares

Following hard upon the announcement Tuesday by Coach T. E. Jones of the university that he had been obliged to call off this year's proposed first annual inter-state high school basketball tournament on account of "flu" conditions in Madison, Purdue and Indiana universities have taken advantage of the Badger misfortune to invite the same high schools, which had accepted the invitation to Wisconsin, to compete under their auspices for the inter-state title.

Fort Dodge high school, champion of Iowa, has announced that it has accepted the Purdue invitation to compete at LaFayette, Ind., March 28 and 29. The other state champions are: Fond du Lac high, Wisconsin; Duluth Central high, Minnesota; Toledo Central high, Ohio; Rockford high, Illinois; and a Detroit high school, Michigan.

Coach Jones this morning declared that he expected to hold the inter-state high school tourney at Madison next year whether Purdue or Indiana hold it this year or not. The idea originated with Coach Jones, who started several weeks ago to plan the meet. The "flu" ban interrupted the plant which provided for holding the meet March 21 and 22. He does not believe that the other universities will be so unfair as to try to capitalize his idea in 1920.

LATEST!

TOLEDO, Ohio — A 631 total of D. Fuller, of Urbana, was the only high score rolled on the first squad of indicldual's in the American Bowling congress tournament here today. Fuller started with a small 181 game but aggregated 237 in the second game and 213 in the third.

The bowlers also failed to do anything on the second squad of doubles, W. Freeman and M. Adams of Lexington having the best score of 1,174. G. Post and T. McCarthy of Madison, Wis., had 1,130 for the second high total.
